

Topic 9.4

A Second Front in Europe

At the Tehran Conference, in November of 1943, Stalin, Roosevelt, and Churchill committed to open a second front against Nazi Germany, including an invasion of France

1. After the Battle of Stalingrad, the Red Army went on the _____ and drove the invaders out of the Soviet Union entirely.
2. By early 1944, Soviet troops were advancing into _____.
3. By 1944, Western Allies were at last ready to open a second front in Europe by invading _____.
4. _____ was made the supreme Allied commander.
5. To make way for the invasion, _____ flew constant missions over Germany.
6. American and British planes targeted _____ and _____.
7. They also destroyed many _____ and bombed _____ and _____ that could carry German troops to the front.