

Letter Recognition

Letter recognition refers to a child's ability to accurately name all the letters of the alphabet. This is a very important skill. Children need to recognize the letters quickly and with fluency.

Example: To be considered fluent, children in kindergarten need to be able to recognize 40 letters in a minute by the end of the school year.

Important to note: Parents can help by assuring their child knows all the letters in his or her first and last name by the time they enter Kindergarten.
